The tranquil, laid-back character of the docks is a world away from much of the capital's hubbub. Its stylish al fresco dining draws in more than five million people each year. We are proud to champion the boutique and fortify businesses by providing stellar service and exceptional wellbeing to all occupiers.

Our identity

2.1 – The St Katharine Dock’s mark

LOGO CONSTRUCTION

Our logo is crafted specifically for us. Please do not alter or attempt to recreate it.

The primary logo should be used wherever possible, but when space is restricted or the format dictates the secondary mark can be used. The logo can be used in any of SKD’s dark colours, please refer to Section 2.3: Colour Palette or white.

The elements of the logo can also be reduced if necessary. More information can be found on the next page.

DOCKS

20mm | 80px wide

ST. KATHARINE DOCKS

40mm | 160px wide

The logo should not be hindered by any other element and should have at least a minimum exclusion zone as depicted on the left.

Minimum size for print and for screen are also shown here. Please note that this a recommendation, so if space allows size can and should be increased.

The logo can be shown with one, two or three elements. The options are as follows

- St. Katharine Docks, London, SKD
- St. Katharine Docks, London
- St. Katharine Docks, SKD (separately)*
- St. Katharine Docks

* The SKD monogram can also be separated from the other elements if required (as shown in the example to the left).

The SKD typeface in Bagoss Standard, it's modern and friendly with flexibility in weights and glyphs. It delivers our message with real character. Bagoss should be used for all Titles, quotes and body copy.

Our language

3.2 — Office tagline

Work on water

Our campaign line for marketing workspace at St. Katharine Docks is Work on water it should always be written in sentence casing and can be written as a lead or supporting line on any workspace-related comms. It should not be used for any residential or Retail marketing.

Our language
3.3 — Tone of voice

meander

Our tone of voice should be personable and feature an occasional reference to water in some way – though be careful not to overdo this – One or two references is enough, too many will feel cliché. All copy should aim to get the message across in a succinct way.

Testimonials are also a great way to communicate the unique quality of the docks, so maximise these when you can.

Our look

4.1 – Pattern

SKD's pattern is derived from water and its movement. The pattern can be used as a static snapshot or can be animated to convey its restorative, mesmeric and enticing nature. Both colour and level of complexity can be played with to create greater flexibility.

Our look

4.2 — Photography: Life on The Docks

By capturing the full story, we can go some way to communicate the energy of the docks. Lifestyle photography, architecture, amenity, textural details and the water are all part of our photography arsenal.

Our look

4.3 — Photography: Advocacy

Advocacy photography should be modern, light and colourful to represent the vibrancy of the area and be consistent with the SKD brand.

Our look

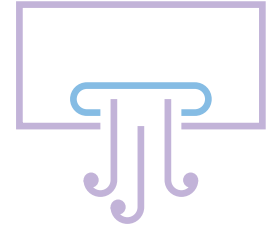

4.4 – Iconography

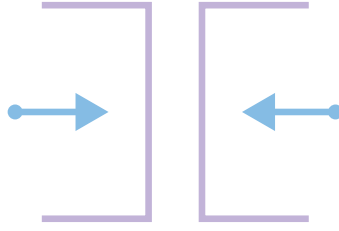

Our icons take their queue from the typographic flourish of our monogram. They are simple and consistent in design. All future icons should be created with the same style, colour and line weight in mind.

A photograph showing a highly distorted, wavy reflection of a boat's interior on a body of water. The reflection is inverted and warped, creating a surreal, abstract effect. Visible elements include a blue seat, a pair of sunglasses, and several colorful fishing lures (one orange and white striped, one solid orange, and one red and white). The background is a plain, light-colored surface.
